International application No.
PCT/CN2005/002402

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement:

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-29	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	4-7,9-14,16-29	YES
	Claims	1-3,8,15	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-29	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations

(1) Reference is made to the following documents:

D1:US5563778A (LG IND SYSTEMS CO LTD [KR]) 8 Oct 1996 (1996-10-08)
D2:WO9115048A2 (AKDOGAN OEZKAN [DE]) 3 Oct 1991 (1991-10-03)
D3:CN1484355A ((NASC-N) NAT SCI & TECHNOLOGY DEV OFFIC) 24 Mar 2004 (2004-03-24)
D4:CN1122465A (SAMSUNG ELECTRONICS CO LTD) 15 May 1996 (1996-05-15)

(2) Novelty and Inventive Step:

The subject matters of claims 1-29 of the present invention are technical solutions of uninterrupted power supply for computer systems.

The subject matters of claim 1-29 differ from these known D1,D2,D3,D4 in that:a first unit outpus an AC input voltage and produces an AC output voltage and a second unit produces a DC output voltage and produces the DC output voltage. The subject matters of claim 1-29 are therefore new (Article 33(2) PCT).

The present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject matter of claim 1 does not involve an inventive step in the sense of Article 33(3) PCT.

The document D1 is regarded as being the closest prior art to the subject matter of claim 1, and discloses an improved uninterrupted power supply system. The system includes a converter for converting alternating current voltage into a direct current voltage, an inverter for modulating the direct current voltage outputted from a battery or the converter, a first switch for switching the voltage modulated at the inverter, a second switch for switching the alternating voltage inputted via a bypass line.

The subject matters of claims 1-3 therefore differ from this known D1 in that: the second unit produces the DC output voltage.

However, these features have already been employed for the same purpose in a similar converter, see document WO9115048A2. It would be obvious to the person skilled in the art, namely when the same result is to be achieved, to apply these features with corresponding effect to a converter according to document D1, thereby arriving at a converter according to claim 1.

The same reasoning applies to the subject matters of the corresponding independent claims 8 and 15, which therefore are also considered not inventive.

The claims 4-7,9-14,16-29 are considered to have an inventive step(PCT Article 33(3)) because the document D1 does not disclose a recitifer and a second converting unit or a charger. And further the technical solutions in claims 4-7,9-14,16-29 are not obvious to a person skilled on the basis of D1,D2 ,D3 and D4 or their combinations. Thus, claims 4-7,9-14,16-29 have inventive step under PCT Article 33(3).

(3). Industrial Applicability:

Claims 1-29 of the present invention meet the criteria set out in PCT Article33(4) because they are directd to a technical solution of uninterrupted power supply for computer systems. Therefore,the claims 1-29 are considered to be industrially applicable.
